Dialogue VCO
The "Speak and then Read" Telephone

The innovative DIALOGUE VCO lets you speak to your callers while reading their words on a built-in screen, through a toll-free Relay service. It is easy to use and no typing is required.

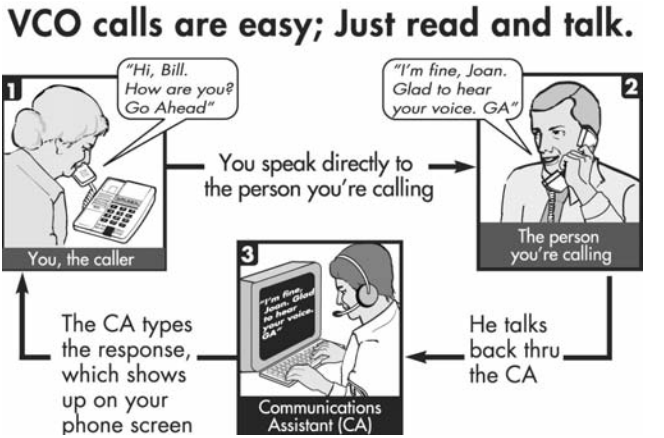
Dialogue VCO

The New "Read & Talk" Telephone/TTY

- Use with relay service VCO (voice-carry-over), simply talk into the handset, and read incoming conversation on the bright two-line display
- Speed-dial button for fast toll-free Relay Service access
- Preset message initiates VCO calls, no typing required
- Built-in text answering machine records text messages
- Bright ring flasher notifies of incoming calls
- Can also be used as a traditional telephone with the built-in powerful amplifier that increases voice up to 30dB
- Adjustable, super-loud 85dB ringer
- Twelve memory buttons, plus Hold and Redial features
- Preset emergency number button
- One year manufacturer's warranty

6398. . . . $189.95

What is VCO? VCO means "Voice Carry Over." A VCO telephone is specially designed for deaf or hard-of-hearing people who can speak. During a VCO call, you speak directly to your caller and your caller's response appears in text on a VCO telephone screen. The call is made with the help of a toll-free relay service.



VCO calls are easy; Just read and talk.
1
"Hi, Bill. How are you? Go Ahead"
You, the caller
You speak directly to the person you're calling
"I'm fine, Joan. Glad to hear your voice. GA"
2
The person you're calling
3
The CA types the response, which shows up on your phone screen
Communications Assistant (CA)
He talks back thru the CA

What is Relay Service? Relay is a free service provided by your telephone company. The service enables deaf or hard-of-hearing people using a VCO phone to call or receive calls from hearing people. To use this service, simply dial the toll-free number listed in your telephone directory. Each call is held in the strictest confidence.

What is a TTY?

The telephone is a vital element in our daily living. We routinely use the phone to chat with friends, make dinner reservations, inquire about job openings, and even to do our banking. For most of us, the telephone provides a convenience that we take for granted. However, for the several million deaf people in this country, the conveniences as well as life-saving capacities of the telephone have, until recent years, been inaccessible. Today, a deaf or speech impaired person can make telephone calls using a TeleTYpewriter (TTY). With a TTY, the conversation is typed rather than spoken and direct communication is possible with anyone who has a similar device.

Calls placed to or from a non-TTY user can be placed through the Telecommunications Relay Service.

TTYs do not require special telephone equipment or installation.

GROUP LISTENING FM SYSTEM

Make your church or auditorium accessible to everyone

Worship services, concerts, movies — things that most of us take for granted — are not part of the everyday life for those who have a hearing loss. Even for a hearing aid user, listening in an auditorium can be a challenge. With the help of a PA FM system, individuals with hearing loss can now enjoy sermons, concerts or movies. Since the message is broadcast directly from the microphone, only sounds which are intended to be heard reach the listener's ears, uninterrupted by distracting background sounds.

Personal PA 377

- Ideal for auditoriums, theaters or churches with large congregations
- Operates over a 1000 ft. range
- Fulfills the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) accessibility requirements
- Features new T35 transmitter with external controls and digital display
